Protected area Natural Park Kolpa

...in South-Eastern part of Slovenia, near border with Croatia, plays important role in protection of natural and cultural heritage

Promotion and protection of traditional knowledge often starts in open-air museum Šokčev dvor Žuniči

Šokčev dvor Žuniči – where the story begins

Traditional knowledge associated to wool processing in the area of Natural park Kolpa in region Bela krajina can benefit local community

Božo Račić – Kume, superintendent in small village Adlešiči, near Kolpa river, as early as 1919 wrote a folk proverb:

“Small ammount of Sheep, small ammount of Money, lots of sheep, lots of Money...” ☺

We breed 4 autochtonious...

1. Jezersko solčavska

and
2. Bovška Sheep

... belong to the group
"Stone" (Steinshafe) sheep.
They are raised in similar - alpine conditions with different purpose of use (meet, milking)

3. Belokranjska pramenka

and

4. Istrska Pramenka sheep

...well adapted to the karst area.

Have some similarities,
but breeds are genetically very distant.

The most widespread breed in Slovenia is the Improved Jezersko Solčavska Sheep (JSR)

It preserves the majority good properties of JS, the Romanov breed significantly improves its fertility...

We shear on the field

Shearing wool has a beneficial effect on the well-being of sheep.

- ...where we have possibility of:
- electricity,
 - solid foundation,
 - clean wool collection

There is a big difference in fleece / fiber quality in our breeds

Wool processing at home requires a lot of time and patience

But: starting with raw material...

...and with help of sheep breeders, artisans and workshops

Let's go on, sing & play together with Slovenian artist, performer, singer Zvezdana Novaković and multinational Saxophone Quartet Roya in old Bolgarian song: MITRELE

...use of sheep's wool in Slovenia improved

... also in XXL size ☺

XXL? ...it's easy. All you need is WOOL

... and some more space for (XXL 😊) knitting

... also a huge tool for
PODRITNIK
XXL crocheting

BICKA – Wool boutique, from Solčava

Bicka is a Sheep. And Bicka is a flute association of women, from whose hands artificial wool products are created.

BICKA association...when we spin, knit, weave, felt,... we walk historically intertwined paths all the time.

Our work means not only creating our own, but also preserving a tradition that is thousands of years old.

...we do not work only for our soul, because in doing so we embody the work of our ancestors and pass on the tradition to future generations.
